Description:

With Choices, Noah Gordon brings to a close his great trilogy spanning the generations of the Cole medical dynasty. Beginning with the legendary 11th-century doctor Robert J. Cole, each eldest son has borne the same name and middle initial, and some have possessed the uncanny “sixth sense" known as The Gift—the terrible and instinctive knowledge that someone is about to die. In Choices, it emerges again in the present, but this time in a daughter, Roberta Jeanne d'Arc Cole, known as R.J. She defies her beloved father when she chooses to study law rather than medicine, yet destiny is to overtake her when she realizes that she has inherited The Gift. As she holds the hands of a sick man, R.J. feels a dreadful certainty that he is going to die. Tragically, he is her own lover. Struggling with her grief, R.J. knows she must bow to the inevitable and become a physician. But her life changes when she moves to a small-town practice and is faced with a terrible dilemma.

Mr. Gordon, I started this book, after the last 2 touched me profoundly, wondering how on Earth you would handle the difficult topic of abortion in this Catholic heart. The description made me nervous that you would be knocked off of your pedestal in my mind and I didn't want that to ever happen! As an old nurse, however, I know how horribly women are placed between a rock and a hard place and have seen the subsequent results of desperation. You have, again, touched my heart with your vivid characters and their incredible gift and it was a disappointment only that the enchantment is finished. Thank you for many wonderful hours!
